In 1895 and '96 Southern iron No. 2 sold at $6 a ton. The same iron now sells at for $18 to $18.50 a ton. This looks as if the Southern iron man was in it and solid.

It is said the international yacht race will cost Sir Thomas Lipton a round million dollars. Sir Thomas has stacks of money, but he can't raise the wind over here.

Things seem to be going rough on the newspaper men. The trusts are running the prices of paper away up, and now the racket down in South Africa is raising the price of diamonds.

Next to mosquitoes New Jersey has achieved the reputation of being the most prolific incubator of corporations in this country. Last year she hatched out two thousand and raked in $750,000 in fees.

Some Wilkesbarre, Pa., soldiers just returned from Luzon, express the opinion that it will take Otis five years to wallop the Filipinos, and that the Philippines are no place for a white man anyhow.

As an illustration of how every little helps there is a Catholic cathedral in Elizabeth, N. J., costing a million dollars, now about completed, which has been built with dime contributions within the past ten years.

Last year New York chartered 1,839 corporations, with an aggregate capital of $380,000,000, and New Jersey 1,928, with an aggregate capital of over $3,000,000,000. Water enough in that to float a fleet of warships.

The two leading cities in the Transvaal are Johannesburg, with a population of 102,000, and Pretoria, the capital, with 10,000. The bulk of the population in the former are "Outlanders," who kicked up the dust. The other towns are all small, few of them with more than 500 or 600 inhabitants.

We are indebted to Messrs. Latham, Alexander & Co., bankers and cotton commission merchants, 16 and 18 Wall street, New York, for a copy of their "Cotton Movement and Fluctuations 1894 to 1899," a most excellent publication and invaluable to any one interested in the cotton business, as grower, manufacturer or dealer. It is a recognized standard authority.

Back from Europe.

After an absence of several months in Germany, Mrs. E. Bissinger, Mrs. J. W. Duls, Miss Marguerite Duls and Miss Gessina Doscher, returned home last evening by the Atlantic Coast Line. They were accompanied by Miss Emma Wrede and Mr. Herman Wrede, sister and brother of Mrs. Martin Schnibben, and Miss G. Rust, neice of Mr. M. Pathjen, all of whom are from Germany and will hereafter make their homes in this country. The party arrived in New York on Wednesday on the steamship Frederich Der Grosse. Upon their arrival here they were met at Front street station by about fifty friends who were rejoiced to see them safe back in Wilmington.

The Revival Services.

There was an unusually large attendance upon the revival service at the First Baptist Church last night and Dr. Blackwell preached a convincing sermon on the "Way of Eternal Life." There were three professions of faith and three accessions to the church. Mr. Wolfsohn repeated by request the impressive solo rendered at the Wednesday night's services, entitled "Eternity." He also sang the solo "Looking This Way," with great effect. There will be an evangelistic and song service this afternoon, and to-night in place of the regular service there will be a meeting of the young people in the lecture room of the church.

Farmer Bear Reports Promptly.

Mr. Sol. Bear has closed a most successful farming season at "Breezeland" with a crop of very fine citrons. These may have cost Farmer Bear anywhere from fifty to seventy-five cents apiece, but there is a lot of enjoyment in raising fruits and vegetables within a few feet of the ocean. The agricultural editor of the STAR will carefully preserve the citron samples received from Farmer Bear.

For the Annual Conference of the Second Adventist of Eastern, N. C., Mt. Olive, Oct. 19th-24th, the Atlantic Coast Line will sell round trip tickets from Wilmington at $3.45. Tickets sold Oct. 18 to 20; final limit Oct. 25th, 1899.

SILVER WEDDING OF MR. AND MRS. WESSELL.

A Hundred and Fifty of Their Friends Attended a Delightful Reception at Their Hospitable Home Last Evening.

Mr. A. D. Wessell, one of Wilmington's highly esteemed German citizens and successful business men, and his most estimable wife last evening celebrated their silver wedding at their hospitablehome, 110 South Fifth street. They gave a reception from 9 till 12 P. M., and at least a hundred and fifty of their friends called and extended their felicitations.

The decorations for the event were elaborate and very tasteful. The house was brilliantly lighted and the vestibule and stairway presented a scene of beauty, with settings of potted plants and festoons of bamboo. The corners and walls of the handsome double parlors were charmingly decorated with palms, ferns and bamboo, and the mantel was adorned with beautiful and exquisite roses.

Mr. and Mrs. Wessell, happy in their married life of twenty-five years, received in the front parlor and their friends crowded around them and extended their hearty congratulations. With the parlor and vestibule crowded with ladies and gentlemen, the Rev. Dr. A. G. Voigt, pastor of St. Paul's Evangelical Lutheran Church, of which Mr. and Mrs. Wessell are members, and the Rev. G. D. Bernheim, D. D., pastor of St. Matthews' Evangelical Lutheran Church, stood up before the couple, while Dr. Voigt addressed them in remarks most appropriate to the occasion. He based his remarks on the first verse of the 106th Psalm. "O, Give Thanks unto the Lord, for He is Good and His Mercy Endureth Forever." After words of congratulations, he spoke beautifully of the happiness and trials of married life, and closed with his blessings on the couple. The Rev. Dr. Bernheim then made an appropriate prayer and pronounced the benediction.

After Dr. Bernheim had pronounced the benediction, Mr. Martin Rathjen, president of Howard Relief F. E. Company, of which Mr. Wessell has been a member most of his life, presented Mr. and Mrs. Wessell a handsome massive silver tilting water pitcher and gold-lined goblet as a token of the best wishes of the old company. In making the presentation, Mr. Rathjen made one of his happy speeches, and in accepting it Mr. Wessell made a feeling response, expressing his great appreciation of the present. The pitcher is beautifully engraved: "A. D. and A. W., from H. R. F. E. Co., October 13th, 1899."

The company was then invited to a sumptuous and elegant supper under the supervision of Mrs. P. N. Fick and stylishly served by W. L. Wilkinson, the head waiter of The Orton, and three of his polite waiters. At the first table, toasts to Mr. and Mrs. Wessell were responded to by Dr. Voigt, Dr. Bernheim, Dr. W. W Harriss, Mr. Charles Schnibben, Mr. M. C. Tiencken and others.

Mr. and Mrs. Wessell were the recipients of very many handsome and valuable silver presents from friends in Wilmington and cities in the South and North. The presents were shown on a table in one of the parlors, and on the table there were also congratulatory telegrams and letters from New York, Baltimore, Charleston and other cities.

Mr. Wessell and Miss Anna Sophia Lessman, daughter of the late Mr. A. Lessman, were united in marriage, in this city, October 13th, 1874, at Currie's Hall, which stood on the northwest corner of Second and Princess streets. The Rev. Dr. Bernheim, who was present last night, performed the ceremany. The couple have had a happy life and they have a family of nine children—Mr. Emile A. Wessell, who is in business here, with his father, Dr. J. C. Wessell, a promising young man who is resident physician at the hospital of the University of Maryland, Baltimore, Miss Gertrude Wessell, Mr. August D. Wessell, Jr., who is at the Lutheran College, Newberry, S. C., and the younger children, Luther, Conrad, Leonard, Florence and Mabel.

After the reception at the residence, an orchestra which played during the evening was taken by the young people to Adrian Hall where terpischorean festivities were kept up till the horizon was gray with the dawn of this morning.

HAS ACCEPTED THE CALL.

Rev. R. H. Herring Will Accept Pastorate of Southside Baptist Church.

Mr. J. F. Littleton, chairman of the pulpit committee of Southside Baptist Church, yesterday received a telegram from Rev. R. H. Herring, of Enfield, N. C., stating that he had decided to accept the call to the pulpit of Southside Church, which was tendered him at a very recently held congregational meeting.

It will be remembered that the officers of the church thought it best not to make known the name of the pastor called until he had formally accepted. The congregation and friends of Southside Church are pleased to know now that Mr. Herring was selected, and that he has accepted. A letter of acceptance, giving the probable date on which he will assume the pastoral duties, is expected to-day.

Rev. J. T. Betts, of Whiteville, will occupy the pulpit of the church tomorrow—morning and evening.

— Mr. P. H. Kornegay, of Kenansville, made business calls in the city yesterday.

SCHOONER CARRIE A. LANE.

Tug Blanche Left Yesterday Morning to Tow Her Into Port—Anchored at Brown's Inlet.

The steam tug Blanche, of the Cape Fear Pilots' Association, with crew in charge of Capt. L. G. Pepper, left before day yesterday morning for a trip up the North Carolina coast in search of the abandoned schooner Carrie A. Lane, lumber laden from Carabelle Sept. 14th for Noank, which was reported Wednesday in a special telegram to the STAR as having been passed October 9th by the schooner Hettie J. Dorman, of Bogue, seventeen miles south of Cape Lookout lightship.

A few hours after the Blanche departed Capt. S. F. Craig, secretary of the Pilots' Association, received a telegram from Beaufort stating that the derelict had drifted ashore four miles from the mouth of Brown Inlet, about eight miles west of Bogue Inlet, and that she had been anchored there by a party of fishermen. The telegram came too late to reach the Blanche before she passed out at Southport, but Captain Craig says that from the course outlined to the tug before she left, it is reasonably certain that she has by this time overhauled the derelict and will have it into some safe port by to day. He wired Capt. Pepper at Beaufort, however, of the later information in case that he had not discovered the schooner's location.

The Lane sprung a leak and was abandoned October 3rd, latitude 33.48 and langitude 77.03. Capt. Skolfield, his wife and crew of eight men, were taken off the derelict by the British steamer Rhodesia and carried to Norfolk October 5th.

THE FOURTH PORT.

Wilmington Led Only by Galveston, New Orleans and Savannah in Receipts of Cotton the Present Year.

Weekly and part crop year receipts of cotton and naval stores on the Wilmington market to October 13th, were posted at the Produce Exchange yesterday as follows:

Week Ending October 13th, 1899—Cotton, 10,222 bales; spirits, 451 casks; rosin, 3,258 barrels; tar, 1,166 barrels; crude, 380 barrels.

Week Ending October 13th, 1898—Cotton, 24,277 bales; spirits, 458 casks; rosin, 1,592 barrels; tar, 1,553 barrels; crude, 193 barrels.

Crop Year to October 13th, 1899—Cotton, 83,120 bales; spirits, 20,909 casks; rosin, 75,285 barrels; tar, 31,365 barrels; crude, 6,878 barrels.

Crop Year to October 13th, 1898—Cotton, 89,867 bales; spirits, 19,355 casks; rosin, 93,682 barrels; tar, 31,468 barrels; crude, 6,553 barrels.

A noticeable feature of the statement is the falling off in the weekly receipts of cotton, which for the seven days ending yesterday are behind those of the same period last year by over 14,000 bales. This shows in a marked degree the probable shortage in crop in the territory contiguous to Wilmington and also intimates in some degree that farmers having liquidated their fertilizer and other farm bills for the year, are holding their surplus stock for better prices. The crop year receipts to the present date also show a marked falling off, whereas, heretofore, the present season in this respect has shown an increase.

Notwithstanding this falling off for the past week, Wilmington continues to occupy the fourth position in receipts for the crop year at all United States ports. She is at present led only in their order by Galveston, New Orleans and Savannah, and has a safe distance ahead of Charleston, Norfolk and Mobile.

ON A SERIOUS CHARGE.

White Man Sent to Jail for Trial at the Criminal Court.

E. Y. Pollock, a white man familiar to market house people as a huckster, a reference to whose arrest was made in the STAR several days ago, was re committed to jail by Justice McGowan yesterday afternoon in default of a $50 bond for his appearance at the next term of Criminal Court, an investigation of his case having proved that there was probable cause in the action against him for assault and battery with a deadly weapon.

Pollock, it appears, embarked with a fishing crew in charge of Capt. Allen Rogers a week or ten days ago. From personal animosity towards a member of the crew it was testified that he refused to fish, but upon the return of the smack upon which they sailed Pollock demanded 91 cents as his part of the proceeds of the catch and upon its refusal by Captain Rogers, Pollock tendered to his alleged debtor a brace of pistols and proposed a duel. Capt. Rogers scorned the idea and asked the infuriated man to accompany him to "the house" for the amount claimed, which, when presented, Pollock drew a Winchester rifle and demanded that the same be placed on the ground. His request was complied with and the money afterwards secured by Pollock.

Justice McGowan ruled that such extreme measures in the collection of debts was against "the peace and dignity of the State" and consequently the defendant was committed.

They have rented an office in the new Masonic Temple and sometime in November will enter into a general insurance business, one of their companies being the Royal Union Mutual Life Insurance Company, of Desmoines, Iowa, of which Mr. McDuffie is general agent in North Carolina.

Messrs. McDuffie and McElwee have had many years experience in the insurance business, and both are well known throughout the State. They are valuable acquisitions to our city and the STAR gives them a most cordial welcome as citizens and business men.

ADDITIONAL DONATIONS TO THE MASONIC FAIR.

Quite a Number Were Received Yesterday Through Wilmington Merchants—The Meeting of Ladies' Committees.

As the date for the great Masonic Fair approaches nearer and nearer to the present, just so steady is the success of the big event becoming more and more apparent. Col. Martin has made no relaxation in his efforts for the upbuilding of the occasion and he continues to meet with hearty responses from Masons and their friends everywhere.

The ladies in charge of the Orient and St. John booths, held enthusiastic gatherings at The Orton yesterday and plans were outlined and discussed for the coming bazaar.

Last night Col. Martin met with St. John's lodge and about twenty-five books were disposed of.

Yesterday the following donations were received:

"THE TURTLE" NOT SO SLOW.

In Fact, Some of the Dialogue and Scenes Are Quite Broad—It Appears Here To-night.

There was a rush for seats yesterday morning when the sale commenced for that lively French farce, "The Turtle," which makes its appearance for one engagement only at the Wilmington Opera House to-night.

The Richmond Dispatch recently gave the following notice of this late Parisian piquancy and fantastic frivolity:

A crowded house greeted Herbert's adaptation of Gaudellot's French farce. "The Turtle," at the New Academy of Music last night. The preponderance of men in the audience was noticeable. Probably not more than fifty ladies witnessed the performance. The company proved to be fairly good as a combination of entertainers, but the farce is strikingly broad, and some of the dialogue and scenes are quite suggestive.

The comedy parts hinge around the fickle wife, admirably done by Miss Lynden, who allows her husband to take steps looking to a divorce, which, however, is not granted, although the husband thinks it is, the wife knowing to the contrary. The husband, Chanepalier (Mr. Ferris), marries again, but on the night of the wedding wife No. 1, who has repented, is, with the aid of mutual friends, put into the bridal chamber, but owing to the failure of some of the well-intended links forged by the mutual friends, wife No. 2 also gets into the nuptial apartments, where they each in turn take unconsciously a strong sleeping potion and fall asleep without seeing each other. Matters are further complicated by the husband also taking freely of the sleeping draught. The attempts at explanation the next morning is where the real comedy comes in.

THE FOOT BALL SEASON.

Manager Metts of O. A. N. Club Arranging for Thanksgiving Game—Practices.

The O. A. N. foot ball eleven, to which Wilmington is looking for much of her Fall and Winter field sport this season, is now pretty well organized and Manager E. A. Metts is looking about for a formidable opponent to meet on the gridiron for the annual Thanksgiving game. He has addressed a letter to the manager of the second University team looking to an engagement for that date, but as yet no reply has been received. If a game cannot be arranged with this old time rival organization at the University, Manager Metts will probably cast his eye over in the Fayetteville direction and see what can be accomplished in the way of making dates with the neighbors up the Cape Fear.

Mr. H. J. McMillan has been chosen to captain the team and now that the grounds on Front between Church and Castle streets have been fitted with electric lights more thorough practice will be held.

At the "Unlucky Corner."

About 11 o'clock last night fire was discovered in the apartments over Mr. S. W. Sanders' store on corner Second and Market streets, which are rented by Mrs. Minnie McCullen and conducted as a boarding house by her. The family had retired for the night and Mr. Walter Wright, one of the boarders, upon returning to his room after a stroll down town, found the second and third floors of the building enveloped in smoke. He awakened the occupants of the house and an investigation proved that from a cheese box at the rear of the stove in in the kitchen on the third floor, hot ashes had fallen to the floor and set the building on fire. By the use of several buckets of water convenient, it was extinguished without the aid of the department.

The Atlantic Coast Line will sell round trip tickets to Newbern, N. C., on account of Educational and Missionary Convention, Oct. 16 23rd from Wilmington for $4.25. Tickets sold Oct. 14th, 15th and 16th; final limit October 24th.

LATEST FROM BEAR NIELL.

Now Claims Cotton Crop of Eleven Million Bales—But His Argument Is Far From Convincing.

Henry M. Neill, the cotton statistician, has made public a circular letter indicating his continued belief in a large crop and an oversupply of cotton:

He gives his reasons for believing that the crop will be large and that there will be an oversupply of the staple, says the weather during August and September this year was more favorable than in 1898 and declares that a growth of 11,000,000 bales is now assured. The circular in full is as follows:

"The bureau report for October 1, 1897, showed a decline in condition of 8.3 points from its September report, and the September report had shown a decline of 8 6 points, compared to August. The decline was attributed to long-continued drought, and yet the crop of 1897-'98, to which these melancholy reports referred, exceeded the previous crop by 2,450,000 bales, and exceeded the largest previous crop (1894-'95) by 1,300,000 bales.

"In the nine weeks ending September 25, on the weather, in which nine weeks these reports are based, the following statement shows the rainfall in the year 1897 and this year (1899): Atlantic States, 9.32; Gulf, 6.10; Texas, 2.87. 1897-'98—Atlantic, 8.23; Gulf, 4.77; Texas, 4.88.

As the outturn of the crop of 1897-98 demonstrated by its enormous result that the weather in August and September, instead of being injurious, must have been highly favorable, and as both the Atlantic States and the Gulf States, except Texas, have had more rain than in that year, which these reports for August and September alleged to be too dry, the demonstration is conclusive that this, as far as August and September weather is concerned, should be a better crop.

"The largest purchases on record by the trade were last year 10,736,000. Now a growth of 11,000,000 bales, which I think we may say is well assured, with the old cotton held in the interior, will mean for the South to sell and the trade to buy more cotton than in any previous year, and for the third year a large addition to the surplus, which at September 1 stood at 3,311,000, against 2,697,000 in 1898, and 4,426,000 in 1897, visible and invisible.

"H. M. NEILL."

"P. S.—It will be remembered that at the beginning of August this crop was known to be in very perfect condition and heavily fruited. WILMINGTON. N. C.

SATURDAY MORNING, OCTOBER 14.

WHERE IS THE HONOR?

The President of the United States is now making speeches in the West. Some of the members of his Cabinet are also making speeches, and the burden of their speeches is an appeal to the American people to sustain the war policy in the Philippines. If we were at war with Great Britain, Germany, France or some other respectable power they could not make more ado over it, or plead more earnestly for support of the flag. Secretary Root told the people in Chicago how he was taxing his brain and sitting up of nights devising plans by which the American army might be "the best fed, the best clothed and best equipped army in the world," the inference from which might be that Secretary Alger, Mr. Root's predecessor, didn't tax his brain as much as he should have done in the day time, nor stay awake at all of nights, bothering himself about the army.

But they are all overdoing the clamor, for neither Mr. McKinley nor any member of his Cabinet is taking this Philippine racket half as seriously as they pretend they are. They are playing it for politics now, and when Mr. McKinley asks the people to sustain the policy pursued in the Philippines he means that as a plea to sustain the Republican party, in which he is more interested just now than he is in the Philippines. We do not mean to say by this that he is not interested in the Philippines, for he is, but he feels pretty well satisfied we will come out on top there, although it is a pretty expensive business, but he is not so sure that he and his party will come out on top when the people get a whack at it.

It is a significant fact, however, that Mr. McKinley should be now deeming it necessary to call upon the American people to sustain his Philippine policy. The American people have a habit of taking a very practical, common-sense, business-like view of things and never permitting themselves to become unduly alarmed. When they get scared or have an idea that patriotism calls them they get up and hump themselves, and what is in the way has to get out. When the war with Spain occurred we had a power to contend against which was capable of inflicting much damage if its plans had been boldly laid and carried out. Then our people thought patriotism called and consequently 600,000 men responded to the call for troops and 240,000 were mustered into service, enough to get away with the Spanish armies in Cuba before breakfast and turn the island into a picnic ground.

But with the Philippines it is different. They are away on the other side of the earth, so far off that no possible harm can come to this country whether the war be protracted or speedily closed. It is out of sight as it were, and being out of sight does not command the attention it would if near by. The mass of the people take little interest in it, and this includes those who endorse the policy pursued, while a majority of the masses do not believe that patriotism is in any way involved in that racket or requires any sacrifices by the American citizen.

Whatever the opinion may be as to the justification for the war on the Filipinos, the people, while they take an interest in our men who are there fighting, do not regard the war seriously, and this is not strange for haven't they been constantly told ever since the war began that the Filipino is a marvellously fine runner, and that he does his level best after firing a few volleys to get away from our fellows as fast as he can?

Haven't they been repeatedly assured that there is only a comparative handful of the Filipinos in this thing, that they were rapidly disintegrating and leaving the leaders isolated and lonesome, and that all the people of the thousand more or less islands are just waiting till we shoot some sense into Aguinaldo's fellows to throw up their hats (if they have any) and with outstreched arms to embrace us, and salute the flag?

Haven't they been repeatedly told that Auguinaldo is a rattle-brain who thinks he is running the business while other chaps are running him, and our troops are running both whenever they happen to meet them?

Haven't they been frequently told that the Filipinos as a general thing are a simple-minded, unsophistocated sort of overgrown children who are now taking some kindergarden lessons in war, in which they have as yet made but jack-rabbit progress, that is, learned how to run when it was getting too warm for them?

With all that has been said and written by the war people to belittle and bring the Filipinos as a people and as soldiers into contempt, is it strange that the American people should not take such a war seriously or permit themselves to become alarmed at the possible outcome?

As there is little occasion to call forth patriotism, neither can the masses of the people see any honor in overcoming such a puny foe, whose principal occupation is in trying to keep out of the way of the American armies. There will be for a nation of seventy-four million of people like ours, commanding all the resource we can, about as much honor in overcoming the Filipinos, as their will be for a powerful, war-like nation like Great Britain in overcoming the Boers. Neither war will make a very enviable chapter in the history of either nation.

BARRIERS TO THE TRANSVAAL.

Now that there is an actual state of warfare in South Africa, and the clash of arms no longer doubtful, it will be interesting to know some of the obstacles that the invading armies will have to encounter in making war upon the Transvaal and the Orange Free State, for Great Britain has both to fight, and possibly many thousands of the blacks as well, with whom the Boers will form an alliance. Some of the obstacles will be the mountain barriers which rise between the coast and the plateau on which the Transvaal is situated, which we find thus described in the New York Sun:

"Wherever the Transvaal frontier touches British territory on the south, nature has raised a barrier difficult to cross. The Boers thus have a signal advantage in position for the conduct of a defensive campaign. The plateau on which their big farms and gold mines lie is 4,500 to 5,500 feet above the sea and slopes quite abruptly to the coast plain. The mountains rising from this low plain have given to a part of Natal and adjoining districts in Cape Colony the name of 'the Switzerland of South Africa,' though their troops scarcely rise above the summit of the plateau. Though defiles among these mountains and up the slope of the plateau front rise the two or three roads by which the lofty plains are reached. The historic defeats the Boers have inflicted upon the British arms have occurred, in every case, when the British were trying to pass these gateways and reach the top of the Transvaal plateau.

"We hear of thousands of Kruger's citizen soldiery now grouped around the narrow outlet from the plateau to the low plain at Laing's Nek. This is the pass between the Transvaal and Natal where, on a memorable day, the Boers lay behind nearly every boulder along the narrow road and poured a murderous fire into the long, straggling line of British soldiers who vainly tried to reach the summit. A little further west is Van Reenen's Pass, where thousands of Orange Free State burghers are now massed. It is the gateway between that republic and Natal, and before the railroad was built through it the slow ox-wagons carried about 50,000 tons of freight a year up and down the pass.

"It is reported that, in event of war, the British hope, through Portugal's friendliness, to advance also from the east along the line of the Delagoa Bay Railroad; but here again the Transvaal frontier is a natural fortification. The plateau summit is reached only after a toilsome ascent of the narrow defile of Komati Poort, and it would be no easy matter to reach the top in the face of sturdy opposition.

"Strongly marked topographic features will thus direct the opening moves in this game of war if it is to be played. The plan of both the Boer Republics is to command the passes in the southeast that give access to their high plains and to destroy the railroads in the southwest and west that would facilitate the arrival of troops from the south or volunteers from Rhodesia in the north. This is the reason why Boer forces are also concentrated at Boshof, near Kimberly, and within a short distance of Mafeking, where Jameson's raiders crossed the border on their futile raid into the Transvaal."

In a country not easily defended, with the disparity in numbers and her superior resources Great Britain might, as Sir Redvers Buller said, make short work of it, but with narrow mountain passes to penetrate and a brave, determined people fighting for their homes and for freedom it means a hard and possibly a long struggle that will make Mr. Chamberlain's scheming very costly before the end comes.

Through the conversion of an ex postmaster in Nebraska Uncle Sam is 65 cents ahead. He was a p. m. some years ago in an Illinois town, yielded to temptation, marked up his cancellation and beat the Government out of 65 cents. He revelled in his ill-gotten wealth until he reformed, when conscience smote him and he sent the 65 cents where it belonged, and with it a bundle of tracts which he implored the gentlemen in that department to read and ponder upon.

WARDS OF THE NATION.

In his speech at Minneapolis Thursday, Mr. McKinley went somewhat further in defining the Philippine policy than he has heretofore gone. This wasn't his policy (for he says he has none), but the policy which he had no doubt Congress would adopt. He expressses it thus:

"That Congress will provide for them a government which will bring them blessings, which will promote their material interest as well as advance the people in the path of civilization and intelligence, I confidently believe. They will not be governed as vassals or serfs or slaves; they will be given a government of liberty, regulated by law, honestly administered without oppression, taxation without tyranny, justice without bribe, education without distinction of social condition, freedom of religious worship and happiness."

The sum and substance of this is that this is to become a paternal government to the 10,000,000, more or less, of people over there, who are to become "wards of the nation." This is seemingly very disinterested, but it was preceded by a remark which indicates that the greed for gain figures in it quite as much as the spirit of paternal benevolence, when he said, speaking of the islands: "That they will prove a rich and valuable heritage, I feel assured."

Isn't this, after all, the inspiration that prompted the so-called purchase, and the determination to seize and hold those islands by force?

Haven't we had it continuously rung in our ears that these islands are inestimably rich in resources, and that, as Senator Carter expresses it, "it will pay" to conquer and hold them?

Doesn't every one who has sense enough to form an opinion know that if they "pay," the expansionists, who are spending millions of dollars and sacrificing the lives and health of thousands of American soldiers, don't care a continental what becomes of the natives, whom our soldiers are shooting down like jack-rabbits whenever they get in their way?

But the kind of paternalism that is propagated with powder and ball isn't of that benign kind that appeals to the benevolent, notwithstanding Mr. McKinley's suave utterances, which are simply talk for the occasion, and nothing more.

A CORNER ON APPLES.

The citizens of Brooklyn, N. Y., who have a tooth for apples, are hungry in the midst of plenty, and all because some grasping fellows who are on the chase for dollars have cornered the apple market and are making the apple-lovers come down with the cold cash before they get a bite. The Citizen thus voices the protests against this unscrupulous scheme for plunder:

"Why apples said to have been bought at wholesale for $3 a barrel or less should be held at $7 now can be accounted for only by assuming that speculators have cornered the market. The earth in every cultivated part of this State and New Jersey, to say nothing of other States, is fairly covered with apples going to rot because it will pay nobody but peddlers to pick them up, and these were offering them a week or so ago in the country cities and villages at 5 cents a peck—about 50 cents a barrel. But, by reason of the conditions, the people of this city cannot benefit by the facts, and must either pay the swindling price demanded here or go without.."

Apples are not absolutely a necessary of life, but they come very near it. They are both a food and a medicine, and the fellows who would corner them in this style and starve people, when the whole earth is covered with apples, ought to be outlawed by common consent. But this is an object lesson on trusts, and while this is but a little one, intended to be temporary, and do its squeezing quickly, it is typical of all trusts, the inspiration of which is greed, whatever the pretence may be.

CURRENT COMMENT.

—— Mr. Hanna has been suddenly called to the Republican headquarters at Columbus, O., to aid in saving the state. It looks as if the Ohio boss will have to go deeper into his barrel this time than he ever been called upon to do before.—Savannah News, Dem.

—— Senator Mark Hanna denies that he wanted to "break in on" the recent conference between President McKinley and Admiral Dewey at Washington; therefore, the ribald intimation that he stamped about the Presidential antechamber and uttered expressive remarks may be accepted as a base fabrication. Mere temporary separations from the President do not disturb Mr. Hanna. The question about which he is most concerned at present is as to whether the Ohio Republicans intend this fall to withhold from him their confidence—and votes.—Philadelphia Record, Dem.

—— The south needs a great textile school, and the resolutions of the Southern Industrial Convention at Huntsville, Ala., asking congress to established one is the natural result of recent progress in southern cotton manufacturing. There is nothing down south to match the splendid school at Lowell, Mass., or the textile school at Leeds, England, not to speak of a few German schools of complete equipment: They are getting far more skilled labor down south in cotton manufacturing, and local pride and interest demand a school of this kind to foster and train it. But there is no need to wait for congress to do it all.—New York Commercial Advertiser, Rep.

SPIRITS TURPENTINE.

— Kinston Free Press: About 200.000 pounds of tobacco were sold in Kinston Wednesday. All four warehouses had fine breaks. Tuesday there was over 250,000 pounds here.

— Mount Airy News: Between five and six thousand bushels of apples found purchasers on our market Tuesday. Seven car loads of produce leave Mt. Airy on an average every day.

— Greenville Reflector: A swarm of bees have taken possession of the top of the tower to the court house and seem to be working away up there as industriously as if they were in a hive. There may be honey in it, but just how to take it is the question.

— Salisbury Sun: The two white men who were taken through from Mitchell county to the State prison the other day were father and son, Dock and John Hughes, aged 65 and 19. They were sent up for killing a man. The old man got two and the young man seven years.

— Scotland Neck Commonwealth: Mrs. G.H. Johnson died at the Shields farm, near Neal, Sunday morning, Oct. 8, 1899, aged 25 years. ——Recently Mrs. C. F. White, who lives at White's X Roads, a few miles from town, left her two little children in the house a few moments. When she returned a hog about the yard had gone into the house and had dragged her baby down the steps. The child was not seriously hurt.

— Raleigh News and Observer: A negro was sentenced to a term of twelve years in the State prison, being convicted of manslaughter at the Gates Superior Court. He and his brother were convicted before a magistrate in July on charge of false pretence and bound over to the next term of court, and being unable to give bond were committed to jail. While in jail they made a checker board and about a month ago while playing, became involved in a dispute, and the prisoner killed his brother.

— Washington Progress: On Friday last about noon Maj. Geo. Singleton, who resided several miles in the country between here and Pinetown, while on his way home in a cart two miles from town, fell and the wheel ran over him, killing him almost instantly. His cart was heavily loaded with oyster shells. —— Enoch Clark, colored, who lived near Yeatesville, this county, got in some trouble with a woman. Some colored men came to her rescue and struck Clark on the head and other parts of the body. He was thought to be insane and some of his friends started to Washington with him to place him in jail. When about six miles from town it began to rain, they drove under a shed and found that Clark was dead. An inquest was held and Hilliard Parmer, colored, was placed in jail to await the next term of the Superior Court, which convenes here the latter part of November.

— Monroe Enquirer: On last Thursday Fletcher Medlin, who lived about four miles northeast of Monroe, came to town. As he did not return home his family became uneasy and search was instituted for him. But all search was fruitless until last Tuesday afternoon when Messrs. Thos. Crumy, G. W. Dees, E. H. Price and A. Allen, neighbors of Mr. Medlin, who were searching for the body, found in the town rock quarry. The quarry is full of water and is about twenty feet deep. The body was floating. Dr. H. Utley examined the body and testified that he found a wound over the right eye, and that the wound looked very much like it was made by a bullet. Two colored boys, Will Barrett and Aleck Lockhart have been arrested on suspicion and are now in jail. The prisoners, so witnesses testified, have been seen almost daily since Mr. Medlin has been missing going to the place where the body was found.

COTTON MARKETS.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

NEW YORK, Oct. 13.—The opening of the market for cotton was steady with prices one to five points higher on firm cables and support in the shape of buying orders from abroad. The ideas of the local element were not in sympathy with an advance, however, and as soon as the European buying power had exhausted itself long cotton made its appearance in large blocks Prices soon returned to last night's close and continued to decline as the session progressed. It was rumored that many heretofore bulls had quietly unloaded their holdings around 7.20 for January and were now endeavoring to depress the market. Reported lower spot prices South and slightly better crop news aided in weighting down the early market.

CANCER.

E. A. Anderson, M. D., Wilmington, N. C.

I have used the (Poison Spring) Barium Rock Spring water in case of Cancer of the Breast that was on the point of being removed, but owing to the timidity of the lady, was postponed. The local application and internal use of this water removed the inflammation, hardness, and burning pain, and has apparently stopped the morbid growth; all traces have disappeared and for a year the patient has seemed free of the disease.

FRAMING PICTURES.

How to Display Paintings, Etchings and Engravings.

The aim of framing is not to exhibit the frame, but the picture, to make the picture look its best. Hence anything that calls off the attention from the picture to the frame should be avoided, says The Critic and Art Collector. The frame must become the picture, be subordinate to the picture and be well made and strong enough to hold it. A good oil painting deserves a rich, elaborate frame. The bright gold of the frame only sets off and becomes the color of the painting. If placed in a shadow or shelter box, the lining of the box should be in harmony with the gold frame, of some unobtrusive color, like olive or old gold, but never of glaring crimson plush. Water colors should be framed after a more simple fashion and etchings or engravings more simply yet. Water colors of the popular Dutch school, which have almost as much depth of color as an oil painting, can be treated more like oil paintings. Gold mats and rich frames may only enhance their beauty, but light water colors, especially those where body color is not used, require light mats of rough paper, white or cream, and cream white, white and and gold or very simple gold frames.

A water color, in distinction from an oil painting, requires a mat to bring out its color and a glass for protection. This glass should be flawless clear (not green), and, with the mat intervening, it cannot touch or injure the face of the picture. Thick paper should be placed under the back boards of the frame to prevent the wood from staining the picture from behind, and paper should be pasted over the back of the frame to keep out dust. In the choice of mats remember that cream tints turn several shades darker in the course of a year or two, but they are more generally becoming than the blue white. Still, some delicate paintings cannot bear the cream tint, so it is well to test the different shades of white with the picture in hand.

The complexion of a water color should be studied in the choice of a mat as truly as that of a bride in the selection of the right shade of white for her wedding gown. This is also true of etchings and engravings. An etching should be framed as carefully, neatly and becomingly as a water color, for etchings, like women, are kittle cattle, and their idiosyncrasies should be humored. Light natural wood oak, ash, chestnut, cherry and holly, well made, in a simple style, are pretending, unobjectionable and do not distract the attention from the picture, which is the point of attention, not the frame. Bronze, gold, white and gold and cream white frames are also suitable for etchings. Landscapes require simple frames, figure pictures can bear something more dressy, and a single head requires the most elaborate frame of the three, but in each case the danger is in overdecoration. An old engraving or etching may look well in a black frame, but black must be used judiciously. Woods like oak or chestnut, gilded, but showing the natural grain and made up in a flat, plain molding, are admirable for frames and are more suitable than overwrought gilt molding.

How to Make Elder Ointment.

This is a most agreeable preparation and is easily made by boiling a half pound of elder flowers in the same quantity of pure lard until they are crisp, then straining while hot through a linen cloth.

How to Fry Steak.

Have your frying pan very hot. Wipe the steak dry, place it in and cover tightly. Turn frequently and keep covered. When done, add to the gravy one tablespoonful of hot coffee, a good sized lump of butter, salt and pepper. Pour over the steak and serve.

PLAN FOR DOUBLE HOUSE.

Design Provides Abundance of Light. Costs About $6,000.

When two home builders can agree to pool their issues and erect a dwelling together, the design here shown provides a plan that has many commendable features. While it is a double house in construction, each is separate and distinct from the other and possesses all the privacy of a detached house.

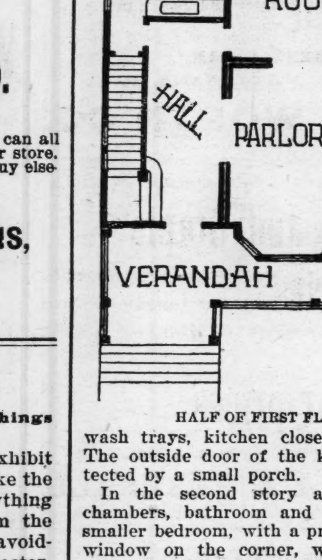

It is a means of economizing in construction which few people think of, but which will enable them to accomplish a good deal with a small amount of money. It is to make a combination with some one else and build a double house. Each one of the combiners owns a 25 foot lot. Together they give a frontage of 50 feet. The house is placed directly in the center of the combined plot, with the party wall on the center line. In this way a wide passage for light and air is secured on each side of the building. The rooms can be made larger and are better lighted, and a much more pretentious and attractive design can be built than would be possible with the same expenditure if single houses were erected. The reasons for this are obvious. Two chimneys would be necessary in each house if built separately. In erecting the double house the expense of one chimney and one side wall is saved outright, besides the advantage of duplicating doors, windows, etc.

A broad veranda extends across the entire front of the building, with the entrance porches at opposite ends, with broad steps. In the first story is an unusually large staircase hall, separated from the parlor by sliding doors. There is a smaller door communicating directly with the dining room and kitchen. The parlor is lighted from the front by a large octagon bay window and connected with the dining room by sliding doors. The dining room is lighted by a double window from the back, with a china closet on one side and the door to the pantry on the other. The parlor is provided with an open fireplace, mantel and grate. The kitchen is conveniently located, with portable range, hot water boiler, sink, wash trays, kitchen closet and pantry. The outside door of the kitchen is protected by a small porch.

In the second story are two large chambers, bathroom and closets and a smaller bedroom, with a practicable oriel window on the corner, which enlarges the room and gives a prettier interior effect.

In the attic are two bedrooms and an unfinished storeroom.

The hall is finished in red oak, with a handsome staircase, the flights of which are broken by broad landings and surmounted by a neatly molded hand railing, turned newels, rails and balusters, finished with a wood filler and three coats of varnish, rubbed smooth. The parlor and dining room are finished in light ash; kitchen and bathroom in Georgia pine, filled, varnished and rubbed smooth as required.

The building is of wood, resting upon stone or brick foundations. The outside walls are sheathed and covered with waterproof paper. The lower story is clapboarded and the side walls, roof and gables shingled.

In the halls of the first story are two small windows, glazed with prettily stained glass, which adds much to the cheerfulness of the hall.

The hip roof of the building, broken by dormer windows, verandas, porches and oriel windows, give a very picturesque effect to the exterior of the building, as shown by the perspective view.

This building can be erected for about $6,000.

New Floor Polish.

The English have a new floor polish which is both antiseptic and waterproof, is easily applied and claimed to be far superior to beeswax and turpentine.—American Homes.

How to Make Hot Pot.

Two and a half pounds of cold roast pork, potatoes, seasoning, stock. Put some slices of the pork in a deep, greased pie dish, sprinkle with pepper, salt, chopped onion and sweet herbs and then place a layer of sliced potatoes. Put in a few lumps of dripping here and there and repeat till all the meat is used. Cover the potatoes and bake in a moderate oven for 2½ hours.

How to Make Cheese Fondu.

Put one tablespoonful of butter in the chafing dish and when melted add one cup of fresh milk, one cup of fine bread crumbs, two cups of grated cheese, a saltspoonful of dry mustard and a dash of cayenne. Stir constantly and add just before serving two eggs beaten light.

How to Make Mushroom Sauce.

Melt two tablespoonfuls of butter and add two tablespoonfuls of flour, one-fourth teaspoonful of salt, a dash of pepper and half a cup each of chicken stock and cream. Add the beaten yolk of one egg and chopped mushrooms and let stand over hot water for five minutes.

How to Make Striped Sandwiches.

Cut and butter very thin slices of white and brown bread. Place together, having within each pair a crisp lettuce leaf and one teaspoonful of grated cheese. Roll and hold with a small pick.

THE COTTON MOVEMENT.

Receipts Since September First—Foreign Exports—Stocks at the Seaboards, Mill Takings.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

NEW ORLEANS, October 13.—Secretary Hester's weekly New Orleans cotton exchange statement shows a decrease in the movement into sight compared with the seven days ending this date last year of 117,000 bales, a decrease under the same days year before last of 4,000. For the thirteen days of October the total shows a decrease under last year of 187,000.

The amount brought into sight during the past week has been 410,844 bales, against 528,194 for the seven days ending this date last year.

The total movement for the forty-three days from September 1st to date is 1,851,547 against 1,886,364 last year.

The movement since September 1st shows receipts at all United States ports 1,263,249 against 355,585 last year. Overland and across the Mississippi, Ohio and Potomac rivers to Northern mills and Canada, 136,979, against 92,082 last year. Interior stocks, in excess of those held at the close of the commercial year, 265,899 against 270,477 last year. Southern mill takings 185,420, against 168,220 last year.

Foreign exports for the week have been 132,483, against 197,232 last year, making the total thus far for the season 762,386, against 660,945 last year. The total takings of American mills, north and south, and Canada thus far for the season have been 408,057, against 346,238 last year.

Stocks at the seaboard and the twenty-nine leading Southern interior centers have increased during the week 167,525 bales, against 231,257 last year. Including stocks left over at ports and interior towns from the last crop and the number of bales brought into sight thus far for the new crop the supply to date is 2,470,445, against 2,153,930 for the same period last year.

Secretary Hester's statement of the world's visible supply of cotton made up from special cable and telegraphic advices shows an increase for the week just closed of 196,874 against an increase of 38,632 last year, and 206,847 year before last.

The total visible is 3,323,496 against 3,126,622 last week, and 2,854,281 last year. Of this the total of American cotton is 2,794,496 against 2,608,622 last week, and 2,380,281 last year, and of all other kinds, incuding Egypt, Brazil, India, etc., 529,000 against 518,000 last week, and 471,000 last year.

Of the world's visible supply there is now afloat for and held in Great Britain and continental Europe 1,632,000 bales against 138,600 last year; in Egypt 75,000 against 53,000 last year; in India 303,000 against 230,000 last year, and in the United States, 1,313,000 against 1,181,000 last year.

ACTIVITY IN TRADE.

Bradstreet's Reports Prosperous Conditions—Only Good Reports From Distributive Centres.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

NEW YORK, October 13.—Bradstreets to morrow will say:

Trade activity is widespread, all measures of volume and value testifying to prevailing prosperous conditions. Only good reports are received from distributive trade centers, and some markets report Fall demand as holding out longer than expected. Railroad earnings, bank clearings returns and quotations of staple prices are all very encouraging, pointing as they do to a maximum volume of business for this period of the year. Crop returns for October bear out earlier impressions of shortened yields of most leading agricultural products. Expectation of more moderate yields of leading cereals is not confined to this country. The world's wheat crop will admittedly be smaller, the rye, barley and oats yields are not expected to be as large as a year ago. The higher range of prices of all staples, and particularly of agricultural products, however, will furnish a profitable balance to producers.

The advance in the price of cotton has been a notable one, and although some reaction is naturally noted, the effects upon general Southern trade and industry of the great advance are particularly beneficial, as this section alone has appeared to lag somewhat behind the procession of prosperity. In the manufacturing branch of the trade, strength is well nigh universal. Advances have been numerous, and a scarcity of goods rather than of demand is the main subject of complaint. While a source of depression to cotton the Transvaal situation has proved rather favorable to wheat and other cereals, offsetting heavy increase in visible supplies.

YELLOW FEVER REPORT.

One New Case at Jackson—No Additional Cases at New Orleans.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

JACKSON, MISS., October 13.—One case of yellow fever is reported by the State Board of Health this morning. Two suspicious cases are under observation. The continuous warm weather is somewhat unfavorable for stamping out the fever.

NEW ORLEANS, October 13.—The Board of Health's report for the day is again no new cases of yellow fever and one death.

KEY WEST, FLA., October 13.—The new cases of yellow fever number ten. No deaths have been reported. Seven cases were omitted in last night's report.

WOUNDED IN A DUEL.

Col. Schneider, Military Attache of the Austrian Embassy in Paris.

By Cable to the Morning Star.

LONDON, October 13.—A dispatch from Paris says that a representative of the Intransigeant M. Rochefort's paper, asserts that while seeing a friend off on the Orient express last evening, he observed Colonel Schneider, former military attache of the Austro Hungarian embassy in Paris, being carried to the train accompanied by physicians and with blood flowing from a wound in his side. Colonel Schneider said: "I recently returned from Switzerland to fight a duel with Captain Cuignet on account of his evidence regarding me before the Renness court martial."

A BATTLE SAID TO HAVE OCCURRED

Between the British Forces and the Boers Who Have Entered Natal.

ARE FIGHTING AT MAFEKING.

Boers Reported to Have Already Suffered Several Repulses — Armored Train Destroyed—Fifteen British Soldiers Were Killed.

By Cable to the Morning Star.

LONDON, October 14.—An Edinburgh paper, the Scotsman, this morning asserts that a battle has taken place between Sir George Stewart White, commanding the forces in Natal, and the Boers who entered Natal by way of Van Reenan's pass. General White, the Scotsman says, is very sanguine of the success of the British movement.

The foreging report is considered to be correct, as late last night the War Office had news of a British advance from Ladysmith and was hourly expecting further intelligence.

A dispatch to the Daily Telegraph from its correspondent at Ladysmith, dated at noon on Friday, says:

"A strong mobile column under General George Stewart White, accompanied by General Sir Archibald Hunter, proceeded before daybreak this morning toward Acton Homes for the purpose of reconnoitering. Gen. White's object was to observe what was going on, and also to test the mobility and efficiency of his forces. All the men are well, and the weather is now fine."

According to dispatches from Ladysmith to the Standard and to the Daily Telegraph, dated Thursday, heavy storms have begun and forage is scarce on the veldt. Therefore, nothing is expected to happen for a few days, unless the Boers, who were reported to be advancing, should threaten the British line of defence drawn from Glencoe junction to Ladysmith. In this case, according to the dispatches, no apprehension is felt as to the result. General White has twelve guns and the Boers eleven.

Boers Attack Mafeking.

The Daily Mail's Cape Town correspondent, telegraphing Friday evening says: "I learn on good authority that the Boers are attacking Mafeking. They are reported to have already suffered several repulses. It is generally admitted that Vryburg cannot stand a strong Boer attack."

Train Destroyed by the Boers.

CAPE TOWN, October 13.—A dispatch from Vryburg says that an armored train has been destroyed. It is feared that much loss of life will result. The news has been officially confirmed.

LONDON, October 13.—The Evening News publishes the following dispatch from Cape Town:

"An armored train has been destroyed south of Mafeking. Fifteen British troops were killed. The Boers shelled the wreckage after the train was derailed."

An official dispatch received at the Colonial Office says: "The armored train was destroyed near Kraipan station while on the way to Mafeking with guns." This disposes of the fear that many women and children were involved in the disaster.

It is reported in Cape Town, though as yet the rumor is not confirmed, that a collision has taken place between trains bearing refugees near Victoria, Cape Colony, nine persons being killed and many others injured. The Boers, with artillery, according to a dispatch just received from Stranderton, broke camp at Sandspruit yesterday morning moving in the direction of Natal.

Gold Confiscated by the Boers.

It is reported that forty-six cases of gold, valued at $500,000, which were discovered in different canteens in Johannesburg, have been confiscated by the government.

Commandant General Joubert has issued a circular from the chief laager in consequence of the report that some of the burghers had misbehaved themselves on their journey to the borders, plundering a number of stores. Such offences, the commandant general says, will be severely punished.

"When we are unwillingly compelled to cross the boundary line of our country," says General Joubert, "let it not be thought that we are a band of robbers, and with that in view remain as far as possible from private dwellings and from places where no enemy is stationed. When food or forage for the cattle is needed, let certain officers acquire such goods from the owner and let a receipt be given with promise of recompense by the government."

LONDON, October 13.—A dispatch from Paris late this afternoon says: "The Boers, with twelve guns, are preparing to assault Mafeking."

LADYSMITH, October 12 (delayed in transmission).—Confirmation has been received here that a force of burghers from the Orange Free State is advancing through Tintawa Pass. Seventy men of the border mounted rifles have been sent to support the cavalry outposts.

BLOEMFONTEIN, October 12.—(Delayed in transmission)—Martial law has been declared and the courts are closed.

A proclamation has been issued warning British subjects to leave the Orange Free State before six o'clock Saturday evening.

LORENZO, MARQUEZ, October 13.—Ten thousand Kaffirs from the Rand have been brought here by train and are now encamped about six miles outside the town. Steamers are being chartered to take them to the Limpopo district.

CAPE TOWN, Oct. 12.—Evening (delayed in transmission)—If a Vryburg telegram received here is correct, it is probable that the Boers are attempting a turning movement on Mafeking. Otherwise the presence of 3,000 Boers between Mafeking and Maribogo is incomprehensible. It is possible, however, that they have merely cut the telegraph wire and taken possession of the line.

DURBAN.—The first and second battalions of the Manchester regiment, under Lieutenant Colonels Curran and Kidley, have arrived at Ladysmith.

PRETORIA, October 12, VIA LORENZO MARQUES, October 13.—An official manifesto has just been addressed to Afrikanders throughout South Africa, appealing to them to resist "the unjust demands of Great Britain," and accusing Lord Salisbury, Mr. Chamberlain and Sir Alfred Milner of treachery. It blames the Queen for condoning what it describes as Mr. Chamberlain's "criminal policy," and declares that "the clear desire and object of Great Britain is to deprive the Transvaal of independence on account of the gold mines in the Rand."

GLENCOE, October 12.—(Delayed in transmission)—It is reported that the Boers have crossed the border at Ingogo; and that the Free State government has taken possession of the rail way to Van Reenan and seized a Natal government train.

LONDON, October 14.—The Daily Mail's correspondent at Dundee, Natal, says: "Reports are circulated here that the Boers have reached New Castle, but no confirmation of either this or of the reports of fighting at Mafeking and Ladysmith are yet arriving."

THE WAR IN SOUTH AFRICA.

U. S. Consul at Pretoria Instructed to Look After British Interests in the Transvaal.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

WASHINGTON, October 13.—The State Department was to day notified of the withdrawal from Pretoria of Mr. Conyngham Greene, the British diplomatic agent to the South African Republic, and the existence of a state of war between Great Britain and that republic. Mr. Macrum, the American consul at Pretoria, has accordingly been instructed to undertake the care of the British interests in that section during the war.

The notification came to the State Department in the shape of a note from Mr. Tower, the charge of the British embassy here. The details of the transfer of the British interests in case of war had been previously arranged, so that all that was necessary was the dispatch of a brief cablegram to Mr. Macrum, at Pretoria. This officer is the superior in rank to the other consular representatives of the United States—not only in the Transvaal, but in the Orange Free State, and he has been instructed to give these officials the necessary directions. The only consular official beside Mr. Macrum in the South African republic is a Mr. Gordon, who succeeded Mr. Manion as consular agent at Johannesburg, Mr. Manion having resigned a few months ago.

In the Orange Free State, the United States is represented by Alfred Elliott, consular agent at Bloemfontein. He is an Englishman, and therefore it is questionable whether or not he will remain at his post in his capacity as American agent. If he retires, Mr. Macrum will probably select some American to take up the duties of consular agent.

There is no present intention at the State Department to issue a proclamation of neutrality. It has come to be the custom to omit these proclamations until some emergency arises calling for their issue, and such an emergency is not expected to arise in South Africa.

A FLORIDA TRAGEDY.

Mrs. Leonard Neumeister and Fred W. Nye Charged With Murdering the Woman's Husband.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

TAVARES, FLA., October 13.—Mrs. Leonard Neumeister and Fred W. Nye, after a preliminary hearing on the charge of murdering Leonard Neumeister, have been imprisoned without bail for the crime.

Two years ago there came from Louisville, Ky., to Altoona, Lake county, Leonard Neumeister and wife, and with them was a man named Fred W. Nye. Not long before this time Mr. Neumeister had fallen heir to about fifty thousand dollars. About three weeks ago the old man was missing and Mrs. Neumeister reported his absence to the neighbors. She told them that she had just found a letter, written by him and left in the house, saying that he intended to drown himself. The men then went to a deep lake a few rods from the house, and there found his lifeless body in the water. It was thought, from the appearance of the writing that the letter was not written by Mr. Neumeister at all, but by some other person. This led to the belief that the old man had been murdered by his wife and Nye.

THREE MASKED ROBBERS.

Attempt to Rob a Bank at Sevierville, Tenn.—One Killed, Another Wounded and the Third Shot Himself.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

SEVIERVILLE, TENN., October 13.—Three masked robbers entered the bank here this morning and attempted to rob the vault, containing considerable money. President William MacMahon threw his loose money into the safe and seized a gun. His first shot killed the leader of the robbers, Bear Thurman. The assistant cashier, John Marshall, rushed out of a side door and shot two of the robbers' horses. Cal. Derrick, one of the robbers, was arrested after being wounded. Will Derrick, the third robber, got on a horse and rode a mile, hotly pursued by a posse. On being surrounded by the men he fled into a barn, where he committed suicide by shooting himself in the head. The men are supposed to have come from Knoxville on an early train.

NO RACE YESTERDAY.

Much Fog and Little Wind—Attempt to Race Will be Renewed To-day.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

NEW YORK, October 13.—There was no race to-day for the America's cup, the international racing trophy. For the third successive day set for a race between the Columbia and the Shamrock, and following three contest from which no race resulted, owing to the failure of the yachts to sail the course within the time limit, there was so much fog and little wind that the committee declared the race off for the day. The attempt to race will be renewed to morrow.

When the race was officially declared off at noon the fog was impenetrable beyond a radius of a hundred yards and the wind was scarcely four knots an hour.

The operator at Sandy Hook at 1:45 this Saturday morning, reports no wind and a dense fog. The prospect is for calm weather.

DISMAL SWAMP CANAL.

An Inspection Trip by Business Men of Baltimore and Norfolk.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

NORFOLK, VA., October 13.—One hundred business men from Baltimore will arrive here in the morning for an inspection trip through the Dismal swamp canal. The steamers Ocean View and Nettie and the torpedo boat Talbot have been placed at their disposal. Prominent business men of Norfolk will accompany the visitors.

A committee from Elizabeth City, on the Pasquotank river, eighteen miles from the North Carolina end of the canal, received this evening information that the party would be banquetted there in time to return on a special train to Norfolk and connect with the Baltimore boat.

SCHWAN'S TROOPS REACHED BACOOR.

Three Americans Killed and Two Wounded in a Skirmish With Filipinos.

SEIZURE OF ARMS IN MANILA.

Small Stock Found Concealed at the Headquarters of the Dominican Friars. Talk of An Uprising — Two Shocks of Earthquake.

By Cable to the Morning Star.

MANILA, October 13.—Major Cheatham, with a scouting party, while proceeding along the west shore of the lake yesterday encountered a force of rebels strongly entrenched at Muntinlupa. Major Cheatham reports that he drove the rebels from their position, and that in the engagement three Americans were killed and two wounded. Rumors are circulating in Manila that Major Cheatham discovered three American prisoners who had been bound, gagged and shot by the insurgents. These rumors, however, are not confirmed.

One Sandago, a lieutenant of the native police, has been arrested and lodged in jail, his subordinate having reported to the authorities that he was endeavoring to enlist the police against the Americans in the event of an uprising.

Reports having reached the provost marshal that arms were concealed at the headquarters of the Dominican friars, a large building adjoining the palace, a detachment of soldiers made a search of the building. They found a small stock of Mausers, revolvers and ammunition, which was confiscated, despite the protests of the friars that the arms were not intended for unlawful use.

General Schwan, with the infantry, has reached Bacoor. The troops are greatly exhausted, having had one of the hardest marches of the campaign. From Malabon to Perez das Marinas they marched through roadless rice fields. The Fourth infantry, from Imus, joined General Schwan at Perez das Marinas. The Filipinos had deserted the town upon learning of the approach of the Americans, leaving only two men and children behind.

Two strong shocks of earthquake, lasting several seconds, were felt at Manila at 10 o'clock this evening.

KILLED WHILE GUNNING.

John H. Meadows, Prominent Citizen of Oxford, N. C., Accidentally Shot Himself.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

NORFOLK, VA., October 13.—Last night while John H. Meadows, a prominent tobacconist of Oxford, N. C., accompanied by Colonel L. C. Edwards, was returning from a hunting expedition to the Burwell plantation, a few miles from town, a distressing accident, in which the former lost his life, occurred.

The hunters noticed a covey of partridges and Mr. Meadows, in leaving the buggy struck the hammer of his gun on the buggy step, discharging the load, which passed through his arm and into his neck and brain, producing instant death. Deceased was about forty years old, a prominent Methodist, very popular, and leaves a young wife.

When in doubt Take the safe side.

The rule for the railroad man is: "When in doubt take the safe side." This rule should apply to every person when in doubt about his eyes. Be on the safe side by consulting us when in need of glasses, and you will be in need of them; for a time comes in the lives of all when sight wanes and glasses are required. The first glasses, if no others, should be carefully fitted by an experienced Optician to avoid mistakes—that may cause lifelong trouble.

A jacket plain, but trim.
Her sweet gray eyes peep coyly out
Beneath a sailor's brim.
But in the Safe Deposit fund,
Five silver dollars bright.
She stores away 'gainst rainy day
As each month takes its flight.

For "what I save," she says, "I have,"
While what I spend on dress,
Pleases awhile, goes out of style,
And leaves me penniless.
But in the Safe Deposit fund
I've put ten fives this year.
And when ten more increase the store,
I'll have a hundred clear."
